Venus Stationary Retrograde in 12th House

At this period, it may be somewhat difficult to put a finger on exactly what/whom it is you want to get your hands on. The urgency of desire does not yield enough specifics, leaving you wondering what's going on. Final decisions are best not made, especially ones about how you feel, as there may be good things for you assembling in the wings that you don't know about and which you don't want to cut yourself off from. Time is not of the essence, even if it seems like it, and some retrospection on who and what has served you well in the past will serve you well now. Feel yourself out before you tie yourself up.

Venus Conjunct Saturn (Retrograde)

As Venus takes a backward jump right on your Saturn, you may have a few weeks to consider what barriers you have adopted, perhaps without realizing it, and what restrictions you have taken to heart that may not be keepers. It is one thing to accept a situation you cannot change, but quite another to choose between options. The same goes for the shoulder you lean on. Do not trade freedom for what you would like to have in your pocket if it's not necessary to do so. For the next several weeks you have the window of opportunity to sort all this out, so don't miss the chance!

Knowing who your friends are is essential to that feeling of warmth and support that keep the life fires stoked. There may have been some shifting lately in this respect -- not so much from without, but from within. Who do you want to be really close, and who just a good acquaintance? Sorting out who's company and who's a crowd can be well-tended to right now, based on coming to grip with your real inner feelings. Sort out the emotional wheat from the chaff, but don't throw the baby out with the bathwater. Don't take for granted options you may want to return to later, but treat them with respect.

Venus Conjunct Saturn

Venus hiking back on your Saturn can allow you to tap resources you didn't know you had and particularly learn to make use of and take joy from opportunities you might have overlooked or thought insufficient to be of real use. The joy of efficiency, a tightly run ship, and the elegance of simple form regain appeal as a result of the disappointments of previous waste and surfeit. It's not just what you have, it's how you use it that engenders beauty and personal satisfaction. Less may not always be more, but less to tie you down and trip over returns the spring to the elastic step and strength to the resilient frame.

This begins a three-week period during which you have the opportunity to refine and perhaps repurpose the way you project yourself in your surroundings. Round off the raw edges and pull in any potential entanglements that might be slowing you down. You have not only the right, but sometimes the obligation, to change your mind in order to insure consistency and personal impact. Toward the end, this may particularly include tightening up solutions to previously resolved issues to be sure they are well in hand. When you've got all your ducks in a row, you won't have to look back.

After three weeks of readjustment, you can start getting plans back into shape for going ahead, which includes some new feathers put on your personal image. You may find you have discovered some improved ways of fitting your own leadership into the mix, which will firm up during the next few weeks and everyday rhythms get renormalized. Although it might not have seemed so a couple of weeks ago, you're increasingly glad to have had the opportunity to edit your life a bit so you can better exploit your position both socially and financially during the next month or so. Some changes will be momentary, but some will last.

This is not the most ideal period to try for a loan or lean on other people's resources to get you through -- you may find that slow going and not terribly rewarding. If you can see it through on your own, do so, if only by recycling what you've got and waiting for a clearer picture of where things are going. Inner reconstruction beats buying on the open market -- when you bank with yourself, the interest rate can never be too high. Rekindling a relationship may be part of what sustains you -- look for the wind under your wings and you won't have to flap them so hard.

Finding headway where needed credit and outside support are concerned may lately have turned into a comedy of errors -- not so amusing, but times are changing and the last laugh is still ahead. Where you have met with diminishing returns, back off and run with a single new plan that will be more worth the extra effort. Where you put the extra is everything -- don't spread it around, focus it. You're more likely to get what you really push for than what you simply toy with. Point the backing you seek toward new directions you'd like to power and others will more easily sign on for the ride.

Playful creativity can be a hallmark of the next three weeks, but only if you are willing to let it take its course wherever it leads. Don't expect to follow a straight track but go where things lead you until you start to establish a pattern. Only then can you get back to the main highway after an enlightening detour onto the scenic route. Don't be surprised if this muddies previously held opinions toward the end, as the new alternatives you will be finding will more than make up for any inconveniences or confusions experienced along the way.

A period of some delays, detours, and slowdowns has turned the corner and with a little more fine-tuning life operations will be not only back to normal but improved. Issues having to do with direction and creative focus begin to resolve themselves and turn out to have been only temporary delays, not fundamental problems. Once you have buttoned down the last of the recently arisen distractions, you can put your mind fully on the game and get back to being the you you always thought you were, only better. The exercise provided by internal troubleshooting and introspection brings you back stronger than ever.

If you can spend the next three weeks redeploying your debts and reallocating resources, you will not regret it. In fact, it may simply be a necessity to pick up loose ends and take a second look at whether you are unnecessarily overextended. With a little tweaking, you could be sitting in the catbird seat, but you'll need to test the wind to get some height. Pick up on assets you've neglected or forgotten about, and you'll have all you need. Make new friends, but keep the old; one is silver, but the other's gold -- in ways you hadn't even thought about.

The last few weeks' complexities and contradictions begin to clear up and you've turned a corner on finding out what you can get elsewhere and what you can provide yourself. If you need to borrow, it will be in the cards, but you may equally find that a little inventory of your past resources will reveal you've actually got all you need if you try out a new way to tap it. Brilliant ideas that seemed elusive are headed back into the pipeline but will still need a little sorting out before you can bring them to fruition. Putting previous obstacles behind you will give you the chance.
