

Lemons and their essential oil are superbly suited to represent Gemini and Mercury. They can be used to perk you up while studying and have diverse medicinal qualities. Their bright yellow color is uplifting and joyful.

The constellation Gemini is represented by the twins Castor and Pollux, founders of Rome. Symbols of Gemini can include anything in pairs, as well as butterflies and all types of brightly colored birds. Lovers often represent the twin flames of Gemini. Foxes are associated with cleverness and dragonflies with messengers, both closely associated with Mercury.

8

Swords

0-9.59 ◦
1st Decan
Gemini
May 20-30

9

Swords

10-19.59 ◦
2nd Decan
Gemini
June 1-10

Gemini: I Think

May 20 – June 20

Zodiactivities for Gemini

- ★ Purchase phones, postage, gloves
- ★ Write or call old friends or siblings
- ★ Learn a new word each day
- ★ Reacquaint yourself with the neighborhood
- ★ Greet your neighbors
- ★ Get a manicure
- ★ Wear and care for your rings and bracelets
- ★ Visit the library
- ★ Take a day trip
- ★ Reread your favorite book
- ★ Take a class just for fun
- ★ Think before you speak

5

Mercury and Gemini are associated with 5, the number of change, adaptability, animation, and curiosity.

Mercury defines how we gather information, how we think and how we express ourselves. Mercury is our mind, our choices, our connections.

I focus my attention to make wise choices.

The Magician (Mercury) teaches us to focus our attention while The Lovers encourage us to consider the ramifications of our choices.

Clarity of mind and purity of intentions strengthen our ability to reason.

Agates are found in a wide variety of colors, their gentle swirling bands creating a feeling of joy and relaxation. Their message is a simple one—pause, take a deep breath, and think a moment before taking action. Agates are calming stones for those juggling too many things at once.